

The most flexible and cost effective

I have been looking at digital system for the passed 2 years. NAOMI system is the most flexible and cost effective for my practice since it lets me perform upright x-rays, table top x-ray, and extremities just transferring the unit from the wall bucky to the table or table bucky.

We are saving several hundred dollars every month

It lets me view the image without having to go into the dark room and wait several minutes. I no longer have to wait several days to send the films to the radiologist for a second opinion. The films are sent to our radiologist as soon as they are taken over the internet. In addition to saving money on developing chemicals and film, we are saving several hundred dollars every month on shipping the films to the radiologist.

Echo friendly

Digital x-ray has the advantage that no chemicals are used to acquire the image. This is important because it is echo friendly.

Clear to the patient

The patient like the digital x-ray since the image come up a several seconds after the exposure and because we can enlarge the area of concern or enhance it so that it becomes more clear to the patient.
